

TIGP Merit-based Scholarship/ Stipend Regulation

A new regulation was passed in 2019 to require all TIGP programs to conduct a regular review on the scholarship/stipend of TIGP students based on their performance, and the minimum stipend being set at NT$ 28,000 per month. This new regulation applies to TIGP students enrolled in and after the academic year 2019.

If a student fails to meet the merit-based policy, his/her scholarship/ stipend should not be reduced to less than NT$28,000/month to comply with this regulation. In rare circumstances and with written approval from the TIGP Office, a student's scholarship may be temporarily lowered to less than NT$28,000/month. However, if this abnormal condition persists, the program committee will intervene.

Faculty members of all TIGP programs, either from Academia Sinica or partner universities, must agree to obey this regulation before accepting a TIGP student.

Furthermore, the Academia Sinica Supplemental Stipend Program for PhD Students (中央研究院博士生獎助金提升方案) has been in effect since 2023. Please note that the supplemental stipend is separate and not included in the NT$28,000. Additionally, faculty members from Academia Sinica have the right not to recommend them for the supplemental stipend if students do not meet the specified criteria.

Acknowledgment of Graduation Requirements

As a student's advisor, you must have a clear understanding of the graduation requirements of both the TIGP program and the partner university. You must also ensure that the student is fully aware of and understands all requirements that must be fulfilled to successfully complete the program and earn the degree.

I have read and understood the above regulation, graduation requirements and acknowledge my responsibility to ensure that the student is fully informed of and understands these requirements.
